What is CFS?

CFS is a service designed for adults with developmental disabilities who choose to live with their family. Several families shared that there was a lack of resources for adults who live at home with their families. CFS services help solve this problem and provide a wide range of resources to clients who live at home within their families.

What we do?

Do you know what resources you need? Or the ones you could be missing out on?

We help find, coordinate and schedule services like recreational, education, health and wellness, independent life skills and so much more! You name it, we can help find the resource. We'll also get education on services you may not know about.

We help with future planning. Do you or your loved one have a plan in place in the event living situations change or a caregiver passes?

We provide extensive legacy planning to make sure our families and clients have a plan in place.

Do you need a go to person to help you navigate completed systems?

Regional Center has a variety of services and it can be overwhelming to understand the resources available to families. Healthcare, SSI and government systems can be complex to navigate. We help navigate these systems. What about community resources and activities that make us feel whole and happy? There are thousands. Where do you start? Our resource coordinators can help breakdown the overwhelming process, work with you to narrow down your search and provide you with the resource you need.

Does your support staff need training to become more equipped in working with you or your loved one?

We can coordinate training for the Direct Support Professionals who are assigned to care for you or your loved one.
